

PRIVACY POLICY

1. Except for the information contained in the cookies, no information is collected automatically by the Website.
2. Cookie files (so-called "cookies") are computer data, mainly text files, which are stored on the end device of the Website User and are intended for use with the Website' pages. Cookies usually include the name of the website, which they originate from, time of being stored on the User's end device and a unique number.
3. The entity placing cookies on the User's end device and being authorised to access them is TAGO Website Operator — Przedsiębiorstwo Przemysłu Cukierniczego Tadeusz Gołębiewski with its registered office in Ciemne, ul. Wołomińska 125, 05-250 Radzymin.
4. Cookies are used for the following purposes:
 - a) adjusting the content of the Website's pages to the User's preferences, as well as optimising the use of websites; in particular, the files enable recognition of Service User's device, and proper website display tailored to its individual needs;
 - b) creating statistics which help to understand how Website Users use web pages, which may lead to improvement of their structure and content;
 - c) maintaining Website User's session (after logging in), which prevents the User from entering login and password at each subpage of the Website.
5. Two basic file types are used within the Website: session cookies and persistent cookies. Session cookies are temporary files, which are stored on the User's end device until the User logs out, leaves the website or disables software (web browser). Persistent cookies are stored on the User's end device for a time specified in their parameters, or until they are removed by the User.
6. The following cookies types are used within the Website:
 - a) "strictly necessary" cookies, which make the use of the services available within the Website possible, e.g. authentication cookies used as part of services requiring authentication within the Website;
 - b) cookies used for the purposes of ensuring security, e.g. these used for detection of authentication abuse within the Website;
 - c) "performance" cookies, which enable collecting information on the use of Website's pages;
 - d) "functional" cookies, which enable "recording" of settings chosen by the User, and the User interface personalisation, e.g. regarding the language, or region which the User comes from, font size, look of the website etc.;
 - e) "advertising" cookies, which allow for providing the User with advertisements adjusted to their interests.
7. The software used for websites browsing (web browser) often allows to place cookies by default on the User's end device. The Website Users may at any time change the settings related to cookies. These settings may be changed in particular so that the automatic handling of cookies is blocked in the web browser settings, or so that the User is informed each time the cookies are placed on the Website User's device. For detailed information specifying the possibilities and manners of cookies handling, please refer to the software settings (web browser settings).
8. The Website Operator hereby informs that limiting the use of cookies may have an impact on certain functionalities available on the Website websites.
9. Cookies may be placed on the Website User's end device and used also by advertisers and partners cooperating with the Website operator.
10. For more information on the cookies, please refer to "Help" section in the web browser menu.
